

TRACKED DOWN

Anna, at age three, you often withdrew to your bedroom where you sat, your small hands dancing out magical stories. Things went missing — your sister's favourite toy, a favourite family photo.... Crouching low, I tapped lightly on your whitened knuckles.

“What've you got there, darling?”

“I dust wanna look of it,” your lips trembled.